BOY MAKES DISCOVERY AT SOUTH END WHARF

Body of Drowned Man Found Lying Across Wharf Stringer.

Freeman Jewett while playing on Commercial Wharf this Wednesday morning was horrified to see the body of a man lying across the stringers underneath the wharf. He quickly communicated the fact to some bystanders and the police and Medical Referee A. B. Sherburne were notified.

The body proved to be that of a man between 50 and 60 years old, fairly well dressed, and was identified by several as being seen in that vicinity last evening. It is presumed that he wandered down on the wharf and fell through the decayed structure and was drowned with the rising tide.

The man was evidently a sailor sometime during his life as there were numerous tattoo marks on his body. A search of his clothing revealed about $50 in money and a card bearing the name of D. J. Kellher, Westville, N. H.

Medical Referee Sherburne called Mr. Kellher by telephone and was informed that a man who gave the name of Charles Murray called upon him on Saturday, saying that he had been working at Littleton the early part of the summer. To a well known citizen, the drowned man, yesterday said his name was Charles Mitchell and that he belonged in Concord.

The body was turned over to Undertaker Miskell to prepare for burial.

Medical Referee Sherburne returned a verdict that death was due to accidental drowning.

KENNARD IS SUED BY WOMAN FOR $20,000

Defendant Has a Summer Home at Dover Point.

Edwin P. Kennard, son of the late W. P. Kennard of the jewelry house of Wiglow, Kennard & Co., of Boston, well known in this city, is again drawn into the limelight by the filing of a damage suit against him by Mrs. Mary V. De Wolf, a former housekeeper. The damage asked is $20,000, and while the exact basis for the action could not be learned, it is believed to be brought for services rendered.

Mrs. De Wolf resides in an apartment at 74 Stevens street, owned by Mr. Kennard. She could not be found last evening at that address. Mr. Kennard is at present at his country residence at Buckleberry Hill, Dover Pt., N. H., at which place Mrs. De Wolf was housekeeper for some time. It was at this residence a year ago or so that Mr. Kennard put his servants to flight at the point of a loaded revolver. For this action he was sent to a sanitarium.

Kennard was divorced by his first wife in New York state about 14 years ago, and since that time has led a bachelor's life. Although originally left a large fortune by his father, he is said to have spent it so freely that his total possessions at this time are little more than the amount called for in the suit.

Safety razor blades sharpened, lawn mowers ground, saws filed, umbrellas mended, keys made, locks repaired, razors honed and rehandled, scissors, knives and tools ground at Horne's 22 Daniel street.

A SUGGESTION FOR IMPROVEMENT

Why Not a Solid Concrete Roadway Across Sagamore Bridge in Place of the Wooden Bridge

A plan for permanent improvements should be made in Portsmouth. New work to be done, ought to be done to last for all time. For instance, a concrete bridge to act as a dam to Sagamore Creek would give Portsmouth a big fresh water basin.

The bad curves could be straightened at the approaches to this bridge, and with good honest labor this could be done at no great cost. The present bridge is always in need of extensive overhauling and a plan for a permanent road across the creek would be an economical way of dealing with the needs at this point.

After whistling for help for some time the crew attempted to beach her near the McElwain plant when she struck a rock and sank. # THE SUNSET LEAGUE SCHEDULE COMPLETED

Knights of Columbus Defeated Y. M. C. A. in Final Game--Elks the Champions.

The Sunset League schedule for the season of 1913 closed on Tuesday evening, when the Knights of Columbus defeated the Y. M. C. A. in the last game of the series. The Knights won the game in the fourth inning, when they scored three runs and a combination of those playing two bases on balls and four singles, and a double netted seven runs. The game up to the fourth was interesting and close with both pitchers going near. The Knights had Hefferman in for the first inning, but Walker, a new man, started in the second, and while he was wild he was effective in spots. The boys began to elude him in the fifth and Hefferman sent him to second and he finished the game.

O'Brien and Howard did the heavy hitting, the former getting a home run and a two base hit and the latter a single and a three base hit while Howard had been stretched into a home run and the coach sent him home.

The Game in Detail.
The Knights won the toss and took the field and R. Brackett filed to C. O'Brien at first, C. Brackett was passed, Wright fanned and Howard was thrown out by McWilliams at first.

M. Reardon fanned, McWilliams drew a pass, O'Brien elected a long ball over Wright's head in left and navigated the bases before the ball came back, scoring McWilliams ahead of him, Hefferman filed to Thomson. Dowdell hit one towards second and Marden made a fine stop and threw him out at first.

Reardon fanned, Marden was out attempting to hunt on the third strike. Thomson singled to left and Palmer went to second, Shuey drew a pass and they moved up one, Gibson hit to Bruce at second, and Palmer scored on the out, Bruce to Keegan, R. Brackett filed to Marden for the third out.

Mates filed to Marden, Keegan was out to Palmer, assisted and C. Reardon fanned.

Score K. C. 2, Y. M. C. A. 1.

THIRD INNING
C. Brackett was safe on Walker's dropping his pop fly after he was run into by M. Reardon. Leary went to bat for Wright and hit to Bruce who apparently did not catch the ball falling down in the attempt, but it was declared an infield fly and Leary was out, Howard singled advancing C. Brackett, Palmer was passed and they moved up one, Marden fanned and Thomson walked forcing in C. Brackett, Shuey fanned.

Bruce was thrown out by Shuey who made a fine stop, M. Reardon filed to Howard and McWilliams struck out.

Score K. C. 2, Y. M. C. A. 2.

FOURTH INNING
Johnson fanned, R. Brackett did likewise, P. Brackett was thrown out, Bruce to Keegan.

O'Brien opened with a walk, he advanced on Hefferman's out, Marden to Palmer, Walker hit to Howard who fanned, Mates singled over second and O'Brien scored. Keegan singled scoring Walker. C. Reardon singled over short and Mates scored. Leary threw high to the home plate and the ball went over R. Brackett's head and he threw up his glove and the ball touched.

ed H. Keegan scored and C. Reardon was allowed to go home for the interference of Brackett, Bruce walked. M. Reardon singled, McWilliams was thrown out by C. Brackett, O'Brien hit for two bases scoring Bruce and Reardon and Hefferman ended the inning by a fly to C. Brackett.

Score K. C. 2, Y. M. C. A. 2.

FIFTH INNING.

Marden hit to Walker at second and bent out the throw, Howard scoring, Thomson filed to Walker, Shuey struck out and Gibson was thrown out by Hefferman. The summary:

Please Keep Your Eye on Johnston; He's Newest Tennis Crack From West

New York, August 6.—Please keep your eye on this young chap Johnston of California. He's a crack. No, that's wrong; he's arrived. You've heard a whole lot about Maurice McLaughlin, the California comet, hero of the international tennis match in England. Well, Johnston is a second McLaughlin. He's only 16 years old, and he can play the game from A to Z like a demon. It is very likely that he will give McLaughlin a run for the national championship money. He has a lightning serve, and his return is swift and accurate.

Johnson hails from the same tennis McLaughlin, Bundy, and other crack school in California which produced players.

VALUABLE JEWELS STOLEN FROM MUSEUM

St. Johnsbury, Vt., August 5.—The Pathe Museum of National Science was broken into last night and a case containing valuable jewels, including a large ment diamond and several rare stones were robbed of their contents.

Beyond the fact that a theft had been committed the police gave out no information as to the matter and the trustees of the museum declined to discuss it. The amount of the loss is not stated, but it is believed that the value of the stones will run into thousands of dollars.

The robbery was discovered today when the museum was opened by caretakers. Entrance to the building had been gained by breaking a window. The glass of the jewel case was also broken. It is supposed that the burglary was the work of punsters.

The museum is a public institution endowed by the late Francis Pathe, a former citizen of St. Johnsbury.

Most of the jewels were collected by Col. Pathe in the course of his travels about the world. They included besides the great diamond opals, a topaz, three emeralds, a ruby and a garnet.

Suspicion in the mind of the public attaches to some supposed rogues who have been loitering about the town for several days and who are believed to have occupied a camp in the woods. Early this morning before the police were notified of the robbery, Chief of Police Kinsey ordered out of town a number of rough looking men whom he saw loitering about the railroad station. The police think that the thieves hid themselves in the building yesterday and remained there when it was closed for the night, and that after breaking the glass of the jewel case, they escaped by raising a window and unfastening the iron shutters which guarded it.

NEED OF BETTER METHODS IN CARE OF SCHOOL CHILDREN

In a current issue of the Pedagogical Seminary, Professor William H. Burnham, of Clark University, remarks that the Fourth International Congress on School Hygiene to be held at Buffalo August 26-30 should be an event of great importance in the history of American education.

The importance of the subject of school hygiene has received tardy recognition, writes Professor Burnham. "But this congress it is hoped will show teachers and school officials and the general public the real significance of the subject and emphasize the urgent need for extended medical inspection in the schools of this country and reform of school work and school conditions with regard to facts of hygiene."

"The result of the prevailing ignorance and lack of training on the part of teachers has resulted in grotesque and almost criminal errors in many schoolrooms. The teacher has been trained to look at the scholastic product instead of at the children. Their attention has been so absorbed in the writing books, the products of manual training, the notebooks filled, the examples solved in arithmetic, and the like that they have had no time to notice the overheated room, the bad odors, the deformed postures of the children, the strained eyes and the various defects by which the pupils are handicapped. In some schools it has actually been true that teachers have urged children to 'come to school in spite of contagious diseases; and failing to recognize defects of sight and hearing and the like by which children are handicapped; they have done gross injustice to the defective; and sometimes the children themselves have recognized the unhygienic treatment."

"The need of better training of teachers in school hygiene can hardly be emphasized too strongly. Of all attributes of modern education nothing perhaps is greater than the neglect of this subject in the normal schools in recent years. It is true that this subject is usually given some attention in connection with school management or other subjects; but a special course with a competent instructor should be given in every training school and teachers should be made familiar with the fundamental facts established by modern hygiene studies."

This is essential not merely that teachers may help in the early detection of school diseases and the like, but also that they might free hygienic hygienic conditions in the school room, improve habits of children in school work, conditions of fatigue, nervousness, and the like so as to be able to contribute to the positive aim of modern hygiene—the training of children in habits of healthful activity, both physical and mental.

Teachers and school officials and the general public as well as physicians and specialists in hygiene now have an opportunity to show their interest in school hygiene and inform themselves of the recent developments on this subject. The Buffalo program covers a broad field. The official languages of the congress will be English, French, German, and Spanish, and Italian. The program committee and the committee on the scientific exhibit have made preparations for making this congress the most important meeting in the interests of child hygiene ever held in this country, and it is hoped that the scientific contributions will be equal in value if not superior to those of any international congress on school hygiene that has ever been held.

DIGGS WHITE SLAVE TRIAL AT LAST OPENS

Case of Influential Californian Which Was Delayed by the Action of Attorney General.

San Francisco, Aug. 5.—The trial of Maury E. Diggs of Sacramento, charged jointly with Drew Campbell with violation of the Mann White Slave Law, was called today in the United States District Court. The trial of Campbell is to follow that of Diggs. Both pleaded not guilty to the charge July 30. Diggs is specifically accused of having transported Martha Warrington from Sacramento to Reno, Nev. Another indictment charges Diggs and his Sacramento attorney, Charles B. Harris, with conspiracy to suborn perjury in preparing his defense to the charge of wife abandonment on which both Diggs and Campbell were brought back to Sacramento from Reno. Theodore R. Roche, president of the San Francisco police commission, appeared today as special prosecutor for the government, having been named by Attorney General McReynolds, after United States District Attorney John L. McNah had resigned following his controversy with the Attorney General over the latter's order to postpone action on the Diggs-Campbell and Western Fuel Company customs fraud cases.

ENGLAND'S ATTITUDE ON PANAMA CANAL DEBATED IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

London, Aug. 5.—The question of British participation in the Panama Canal Exposition at San Francisco in 1915 gave rise to a debate in the House of Commons this afternoon. Some criticism was expressed of official action in this connection and the suggestion was offered that private enterprise might supply the impetus necessary to secure adequate British representation, which the government declined to furnish.

Sir Edward Grey, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, in a lengthy statement explaining the official attitude of the British Government in the matter stoutly maintained that the decision of the Cabinet not to participate was entirely due to commercial considerations, and had nothing to do with the controversy over the canal tolls.

Sir Edward Grey said: "The British Government came to the conclusion that under present circumstances it would not be justified in asking the country to incur the heavy expense required for participation in the exhibition. This expenditure was estimated at least $1,250,000, and such a sum would be quite out of proportion with any commercial advantages likely to result from it.

"Inquiries in the commercial centers of the United Kingdom had not shown that there was any active desire to participate.

"The conditions for participation laid down by the exhibition authorities prescribe that exhibits shall be distributed among a series of international pavilions, thereby rendering it impossible to secure an effective National display.

"The question was considered and dealt with on these grounds without any reference to the question of Panama Canal tolls.

"The British Government had done nothing to discourage participation in the exhibition by self-governing British dominions."

John O'Connor, a Nationalist member, questioned the estimate made by the Government as to the expenditure and pointed out that Great Britain's expenditure at Chicago had amounted to only $300,000, while at the Japanese the German and the French exhibitions it had attained only $500,000.

Alphons Cleophus Morton, a Scottish member, suggested that in view of the Government's "disinclination to help the exhibition" private individuals or the city of London might take the matter up, as was the case at the French exhibition of 1889.

Sir Edward Grey in reply stated that as far as the Government was concerned the matter had been very carefully investigated by the Board of Trade, but the Government would not think of doing anything to discourage participation in the exhibition by private individuals. He would, he said, communicate with the Board of Trade, to see if it was ready to assist exhibitors desiring to participate.

Retired army officers and enlisted men serving with the organized militia of the several states will not receive any of the $3,000,000 annually appropriated by the Federal Government for the militia. They will get only their retired pay as officers and men of the regular army, according to a decision today by the Comptroller of the Treasury. This order affects many retired regulars who are also members of the militia. The Comptroller expressed some doubt whether a regular army officer should also be an officer of the state militia, because the claims of the United States on its services are paramount to those of the states. He did not decide that question, however.

AUSTRALIA'S FIRST WARSHIP FINISHED

Washington, Aug. 5.—The first armored ship built for the Royal Australian Navy, the battle cruiser Australia, has left Portsmouth, England, for what are henceforward to be her home waters in the Antipodes. She will fly the flag of Australia's first admiral, Sir George Patey, who was knighted on board the ship when it was inspected the vessel five weeks ago.

The Australia was laid down at Clydebank in June, 1910, and was due to be completed in September last year, the ten months' delay being accounted for partly by labor troubles and partly by the builders having to wait for a new type of armor. The ship displaces 10,200 tons (being 400 tons more than the New Zealand), and is armed with eight 12-inch and sixteen 4-inch guns. Her speed is twenty-five knots with Parsons' turbines of 44,000 horsepower, her carrying capacity 2,500 tons, and her complement 700 officers and men.

When the Australia arrives at Sydney she will find the Australian navy already in existence. The 5,000-ton protected cruiser Melbourne was completed some time ago, as well as the destroyers Parramatta, Yarra and Warrago; while two other cruisers, the Encounter and Pioneer, have been lent by the Admiralty to the Commonwealth Government.

The cruiser Sydney, a sister ship to the Melbourne, is now due at Sydney, and a third vessel of the same type named Brisbane, is being built in Australia. Messrs. Vickers have almost completed two 800-ton submarines for the Australian navy, and a depot ship for vessels of this type is shortly to be built. When it is entirely completed the first Australian fleet "unit" will consist of one battle cruiser, three protected cruisers, six destroyers, three submarines, and such auxiliary vessels as may be found necessary.

The proposals of Admiral Sir Reginald Henderson involved the building by 1933 of:

Battle cruisers ..... 3
Protected cruisers ..... 10
Destroyers ..... 18
Submarines ..... 10
Depot ships ..... 1
Repair ship ..... 1

This scheme would cost $130,000,000 and a personnel of 15,000 would be required. It has not been definitely adopted yet.

Rear admiral Sir George Patey, Australia's first admiral, is fifty-four years of age, and has been assistant director of naval intelligence and inspecting captain of training ships. The Australia is commanded by Captain Radcliffe of the royal navy, but good proportion of the men belong to the Royal Australian navy.

CURIOSITIES OF KOREAN MARRIAGES.

(August Wide World Magazine.)

The Koreans marry very young generally between the ages of 12 and 15. For a woman to reach 20 without marrying is considered a terrible thing. A peculiarity of these weddings is that they would appear to be a matter of interest to everyone except the parties most concerned. And often see one another for the first time on the wedding morning. This is because in a Korean household the boys are kept apart from the girls, the father and the son occupying the front part of the house, and the mother and the daughters living in the rear of the establishment. Moreover, in their social sex the boys are not allowed to mix with the girls. The parents and friends arrange the match, in accordance with their own interests, and if both parties agree and the bargain is concluded, the formalities are of the simplest.

There is no religious ceremony and no legal contract.

Early on the wedding morn the best man arrives to tie the bridegroom's pigtail in a knot on the top of his head, and this not only remains for ever as an outward and visible sign of his condition, but entitles him to wear a hat for the first time in his life and to be treated as a man and enter public life. He may be a mere child, twelve years of age, but he has no longer any right to play with his boy friends, and must choose his associates among old men. He has now all civil rights, and is expected to behave accordingly. If, on the contrary, a man is unable to afford the luxury of a home and a wife, he may reach the age of fifty, but he must still wear his pigtail down his back, has none of the advantages of citizenship, and is expected to play with kids, mables, and such like. Any folly he may commit is excused in the same way as the naughtiness of a child who is not responsible for his actions.

The wedding ceremony itself is most simple. The whole function consists of a procession, when the bride and bridegroom are conducted by their respective relations to a dais. There they are put face to face, and probably, as already stated, see each other for the first time. They merely glance at one another, then bow, and the knot is tied undissolubly.

SAND DUNES AND SALT MARSHES.

By Dr. Charles Wendell Townsend.

Author of "Along the Labrador Coast," "A Labrador Spring," etc.

The book is an intimate account of sand dunes and salt marshes and as such will appeal to all lovers of the seashore, where these features are to be found.

Although written in a popular manner, abounding in charming descriptions of scenery and of bird and animal life, the book is filled with scientific facts and original observations. A brief resume of the chapters will present some idea of the scope of the book. Chapter I gives an appreciative description of sand dunes with an account of their varying forms and rate of growth, of the overwhelming of farms and the burying of wrecks. The snow and ice formation in winter is also described. In the next chapter the various tracks in the sand are studied, and we obtain from them intimate knowledge of the creatures, whether they be deer or foxes, crows or grasshoppers. The vegetation in the dunes is described in some length, but the author evidently enjoys most his chapters on "The bird life of the dunes," and "Water birds seen from the dunes." The harbor seal is pursued at all seasons with telescope and club, and is described in life and action from babyhood to old age.

In the first chapter on salt marshes the writer reveals in the artistic and poetic side of the subject, for he is a thorough salt marsh lover. He manages, however, to include scientific accuracy and he gives a detailed description of the four zones of vegetation. In the next chapter, "Salt marshes—their past and future," he sketches the probable geological history of this region. Chapters on "Birds of the salt marshes," "The horseshoe crab and other denizens of the sand and mud," and "Bird genealogy"—the last an evolutionary study—complete the book which is illustrated with nearly a hundred excellent half tones from photographs. Large 12mo. cloth $2.00 net. Postage extra. Dana Estes & Co., Publishers, Boston.

WOULD SEIZE RAILROAD FOR TAXES

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 5.—Mayor Mark announces he will ask the City Council tonight to instruct City Treasurer to seize sufficient Detroit United Railway property—power houses, cars, etc.—to satisfy the city's claim against the company for $439,731 back taxes and an additional $10,685 due to the city for the privilege of operating freight cars on Detroit streets.

The company has paid no taxes, except on the so-called Pinger three-cent lines, since 1909. No taxes have been paid on lines where franchises have expired, the company contending the $300 daily rental which it pays for the privilege of operating over these lines was in lieu of taxes. The determination to follow Mayor Mark's three-cent fare resolution by an attack on the company because of delinquent taxes follows the announcement by the company that it will stop its cars rather than operate at the lower rate of fare.

TRACK SCALES NOT ALWAYS ACCURATE

Washington, Aug. 5.—Investigation of alleged irregularities and discrepancies in the weighing of freight has disclosed the imposition of unreasonable charges, and to compensate as great discrimination as would be a difference of freight rates.

In a report of an investigation issued today, the Interstate Commerce Commission declares that "a majority of the track scales now in use should at once be rebuilt, in order to obtain reasonable accurate results." Sharp criticism of the methods of weighing such commodities as grain, coal and lumber, is made, it being alleged that shippers almost invariably get the worst of the transaction.

The commission has no authority under the law to issue an order correcting the evils disclosed, but it recommends that Congress confer upon it powers to fix points at which track scales shall be installed, to prescribe their standard, to test or supervise the testing and to supervise the operation of scales.

The American Railway Association, in compliance with suggestions of the commission will soon promulgate weighing regulations.

A MILLION ACRES TO BE GIVEN AWAY

Washington, Aug. 5.—President Wilson, by proclamation, has authorized the disposal under the registration plan, of about 1,000,000 acres of surplus land within the Fort Peck Indian reservation, northeastern Montana. All applications for registration must be sworn to and presented at Glasgow, Great Falls, Havre or Miles City, Montana, between Sept. 1 and 20.

Sec. Lane of the Interior Department has issued regulations authorizing the disposal under the registration plan of about 44,000 acres of land within the former Fort Nebraska military reservation, Nebraska. Applications must be presented at Valentine, Neb., between Oct. 15 and 25.

BULL DOGS HAVE LIVELY SCRAP

A bull dog said to belong to a Congress street boot black attacked a dog walking along Congress street shortly before eleven o'clock Tuesday evening, and it was a lively scrap while it lasted. The owner of the smaller dog finally pulled the other dog away, and drove him off, but returned in a few minutes and again tackled the smaller dog. Several bystanders interfered and pulled the dogs apart, and drove the larger dog away. The larger dog is getting to be a public nuisance on Congress street and he is mixed up in several scraps a day.

The Resignation of Principal Hobbs.

Portsmouth's loss is Boston's gain in the election of J. Wilson Hobbs as sub-master of the Boston Latin School. Mr. Hobbs has brought the local High school up to a high state of efficiency since he took charge some nine years ago. The discipline of the school has been perfect under his leadership and the general efficiency has been greatly to his credit. Portsmouth regrets his leaving and wishes him every success in his new field. He has the ability to go up the ladder still higher in his chosen profession and will.

Vicarious Athletics.

If the wild enthusiasm with which Weston was greeted in Minneapolis meant a revival of interest in long-distance walking it would be a matter of general congratulation. But how many of the lithe youngsters in that crowd of thousands would dare set out on a trip like the veteran's? Americans are inclined to take their athletics vicariously. They will crowd the stands and bleachers by thousands to watch eighteen men play baseball, when not a tenth of the crowd would bat a pop fly for a dollar. Clerks who wouldn't attempt to jump over the ribbon counter cheer football giants lustily. The hollow-chested bookkeeper who needs exercise takes it by keeping score and figuring up batting averages.—Baltimore Sun.

Murder by Motor.

The record of twenty-six deaths in New York city due to automobile accidents in the month of July presents once more the seriousness of this form of danger. It is a menace not only to automobilists, but to the public at large, and is due mainly to a degree of carelessness in driving that is simply murderous. Many chauffeurs, professional or otherwise, under the excitement of racing or joy-riding lose all sense of the speed at which they are going or of the hazard to which they put the lives of all that come in their way. Thus it happens that people are killed not only in crossing streets, but on the sidewalks, and in one instance at least in the very doorway of a shop.—New York World.

Laundering Money.

The treasury department's money-washing machines are now said to fade bills so that the public regards them with suspicion, and to lessen the germicidal qualities of the ink with which they are printed, thereby increasing the liability to carry diseases. Yet quite likely several millions of Americans will accept sizable quantities of bank notes without compulsion, and release the government from all responsibility in respect of resulting illness.—Chicago Journal.

Dancing in the Parks.

The city may not be prepared for all-the-year-round dancing halls of the sort it is proposed to establish at the Coliseum, but there is no doubt about the propriety of dancing pavilions in the parks. With driveways for motor cars, courts for tennis players, links for golfers, diamonds for ball players and even greens for cricketers, already in the parks, why should those be discriminated against whose favorite and healthful recreation is dancing?—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

Bound to Have a War of Some Kind.

Failing to bring about war between the United States and Mexico, some of the yellow journals are now devoting their space to the controversy between the supporters of Greenacre and the Bahais that is pending prior to the annual meeting of the Greenacre Fellowship. It would seem as though they are determined to have a war of some kind, even if it is not of great magnitude.

The Expose of Navy Snobs.

The effort of Senator Kern to expose the navy snobs should be commended and he should receive the support of the entire country. This country is suffering from many ills and it is time that the army and navy was made to recognize their positions as servants of the people and not the masters. It is time to declare war against this increasing evil.

Public Not in Market.

If something doesn't happen pretty soon the Wall street stock brokers are likely to have to go to work at something useful or hit the high road that leads over the hills to the poorhouse. They have tried everything they could think of, and still the suckers won't bite.—Dallas News.

All the important countries of the world have entered teams. ## PLANS NEARING COMPLETION FOR GRANGE WEEK

Plans are nearing completion in every respect with regard to the 47th annual session of the National Grange set to open in Manchester, N.H., Nov. 12. Grange Week is to be made memorable in this city and special arrangements will be followed to see to it that the thousands of visitors are adequately housed and entertained.

The state grange has accepted the invitation to confer the sixth degree and all duly recommended applicants will be invested with the degree of honor early in the afternoon of Thursday the 13th and Friday, the 14th.

Thursday will be visitors' day when the seventh degree will be given by the Assembly of the Priests of December in patron's residing outside of New Hampshire. The ceremonies will be performed in season to take the afternoon trains.

Friday will be New Hampshire Day when the seventh degree will be conferred and those whose homes are in distant parts of the state and they will be initiated in season to catch the afternoon trains. Local applicants will be requested to wait until Friday evening to receive the seventh degree that visitors may be accommodated. It is important that all taking the higher degree shall make application at an early date for it is a task to issue 5,000 tickets. Sixth and seventh degree application blanks may be secured of the secretary of the state grange, Manchester.

Want Grange in 1914
Manchester, N.H., and Washington, D.C., are making plans to secure the meeting of the National Grange in 1914.

Arthur S. Hood, Manchester's eminent music teacher and arranger, who composed "The Grange" and arranged the march for their band, orchestra and brass band, and it became so popular in the theatres and the State Grange at its last session in Manchester, will compose another piece for the grange week in November.

Most of the estimates for the size of the seventh degree class next November when revised, have been increased. Massachusetts now promises 1,000.

The Boston & Maine railroad will sell round trip tickets to Manchester, at all of its ticket offices located where members of the grange in New Hampshire reside, at one cent a mile for the distance traveled. These tickets will be good going a few days before and several days after the meeting of the state grange to be held in connection with the national grange, November 13 and 14, 1913. The Maine Central railroad will sell

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 5.—The Perry flag ship Niagara with her escort was given an ovation on her arrival in Milwaukee today. There was dipping of colors, blowing of whistles and ringing of bells by all craft in the harbor, and in Juneau Park, Lake Front, 1500 boys dressed in red, white and blue caps and capes, representing a human flag, sang "The Star Spangled Banner." The program included a reception and luncheon for the Perry guests, and in the afternoon, a red, white and blue automobile parade. Band concerts in all the parks will be a feature of the evening.

CURRENT OPINION

What Has Become of the Young Girl?

This is a straight-from-the-shoulder talk to the fathers of young girls. We hope mothers will read this also, but we want them to pass it on to their husbands without fail. The American father needs a jolt. And this is a jolt handed from one father to another.

We are not given to deploring the passing of "the good old days." We believe that many decayed and useless customs have been cast aside, and that today carries much to admire and rejoice over.

BUT WE HAVE MADE A MISTAKE IN LETTING OUR GIRLS GROW UP TOO FAST. THERE IS NEITHER MEEKNESS NOR SHADOW IN THE EYES OF MISS SIXTEEN TODAY. NEITHER IS SHE EXACTLY WHAT YOU WOULD CALL "SWEET." SHE IS "SMART" AND AMUSING, BUT SHE DOES NOT BRING A TREMENDOUS SMILE TO THE LIPS OF OLD AGE NOR FILL THE HEARTS OF MEN, YOUNG AND OLD, WITH THE FINE OLD DESIRE TO PROTECT AND SCREEN HER FROM ALL THAT MIGHT HURT OR CONTAMINATE.

Her eyes invite and challenge. Her bearing announces an independence that is too assertive. There is nothing reluctant about her feet. Rather they press eagerly toward the dress, manners, customs and pleasures designed for those who have plucked the ripe fruit from the Tree of Knowledge.

We men are proud of this new girl's spirit, of her achievement in the classroom, of her resourcefulness and adaptability when economic conditions force her into the factories, stores and offices. We smile at her good-humoredly and say, "Go to it, girl," when she elbows her way into the crowded lunch-room or trolley. But we miss the shadow in her eyes, the fly in her hand, and we do not like to think of her as a wife for our son.

If we stop to analyze her position in the general scheme of life we think vaguely that she belongs in a class of her own, the class that must hold its own in the stern work-a-day world.

PERHAPS IN PREPARING THEIR DAUGHTERS FOR THE GRINDING, PITILESS CONTACT WITH THOSE WHO TOIL, PARENTS HAVE TAUGHT GIRLS AT ONCE TOO MUCH AND TOO LITTLE—TOO MUCH OF HOW TO PROTECT THEMSELVES FROM EVIL IN OTHERS, TOO LITTLE OF HOW TO FLEE THE EVIL IN SELF. AND SO, FLAUNTING HER PREPAREDNESS, THIS TYPE THROWS OFF THE MYSTERIOUS VEIL OF MAIDENHOOD, MELTING INTO WOMANHOOD.

We are sorry for this girl, sorry for her parents, and we say smugly to ourselves that we are glad our daughters are not as this poor, world-worn creature. That is because we really do not know our own daughters. We have not time to follow our girls into what we fondly believe to be a sheltered, refined life. Suppose some of you fathers put market prices into the background and for a few hours walk the sheltered path which you imagine your hard earned dollars provide for your daughters.—Victorial Review.

JUDGE REMICK REFUSES THE APPOINTMENT

Curtly Informs Governor That He Is Not to Be Considered a Democrat.

Concord, August 5.—Judge James W. Remick, progressive, appointed by Governor Felt and Council as a member of the New England railroad conference board, has declined the proffered place.

The declination is contained in a letter to the governor accompanied by extracts from an address made by Judge Remick at a Progressive party banquet held at Riverdale Inn, Hooksett, following the adjournment of the legislature.

The letter and accompanying expression of Judge Remick's views are as follows:

Judge Remick's Letter
Hon. Samuel D. Felker, Executive Chamber, Concord, N. H.

My Dear Governor:—In what appears to be an official announcement of the proceedings of the Governor and Council at a meeting held last evening, I note that I was appointed as one of the New Hampshire members of the New England Railroad Conference Board.

I deeply appreciate this expression of confidence by you and your Council, but for the reason stated in my note to you on June 20, 1913, I must decline the appointment.

I further note that the appointment was given to me as a Democrat. If you and your council entertain any such delusion, get it out of your heads.

If my attitude politically is of any interest to you it will be found expressed in the enclosed copy of some remarks made by me at a recent meeting of New Hampshire Progressives.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) JAMES W. REMICK.

APPROVED BY A LARGE VOTE

Glass Bill Emerges From Democratic Conference Further Amended-- Objectors to Fight in Caucus

Washington, August 5.—The administration currency bill, still further amended its important particulars, emerged from the Democratic conference of the house banking and currency committee today over the protests of Representative Neely of Kansas, Eagle of Texas and Ragsdale of South Carolina. At the end of a lively session in which the Democratic objectors promised to carry their fight to the floor of the caucus next Monday, the Glass bill was approved by a vote of 11 to 3.

Barter in the day President Wilson's currency program had come in for open criticism in the senate. Senator Hitchcock, Democratic member of the currency committee of that body, in a speech directed against the plan for a currency reform at this session, said he believed the "mere agitation of the banking and currency question at this session has been a mistake."

Differences Unsettled

The differences among Democrats of the house committee were not settled by final action on the bill. Besides the three who voted against it, Representative Wingo of Arkansas, expressedly stated that he would fight for amendments to the measure in the caucus.

"At the last moment and without any previous consideration," said Representative Neely, in a statement tonight, "a motion was passed authorizing the chairman to draft an amendment to the bill authorizing national banks to organize and operate both savings and trust departments in connection with the other features of the bank."

"This is an entirely new provision, exceedingly radical in the changes wrought in any considered portion of the bill, and tends to a centralization of power to a high degree. It certainly should never have been adopted without careful consideration."

FOR THREE BATTLESHIPS

Emergency Appropriation Proposed
By Congressman Britten, who Fears
Trouble With Japan and Mexico.

Washington, August 5.—In a resolution being drafted with war scares, Congressman Britten, a new Republican member from Chicago, today asked the house to pass an emergency appropriation bill for the construction of three battleships. The resolution sets forth in dramatic form the danger of aggression, with Japan and Mexico and then states that the United States is in a sad state of unpreparedness for war.

Mr. Britten announced that he will lay the matter before the naval committee, of which he is a member, he hopes to get a favorable action by bringing to the attention of the committee the alleged activity of Japan in increasing its navy.

He will lay before the committee a statement attributed to the vice minister of the Japanese navy, Admiral Takube, to the effect that Japan should increase its navy immediately to meet the added facilities the Panama Canal will give the American fleet.

TO AID SOUTHERN YARDS

Secretary Daniels Will Work for Development of Naval Stations

Washington, August 5.—There are good days ahead for the southern navy yards and stations, if Secretary Daniels can manage to get the necessary appropriations to carry out his ideas. The secretary let it be known today that he considered a poor economy to allow the vast sums of government money represented in the construction and equipment of these plants to go to waste without any adequate returns.

Just returned today from his inspection of the yards of the south and the west coast, the secretary spoke enthusiastically of the possibilities of the development of the south.

The secretary was much impressed by the possibility of the New Orleans naval station. He said he had no doubt of its value as a naval asset, notwithstanding the fact that some naval officers argued that it was too far up the river to be convenient for docking purposes.

SUES TO BREAK EXPRESS CONTRACT WITH RAILROAD

Stockholder Claims Boston & Maine Has Lost Four Millions By Bad Contract With Express Co.

Concord, N. H., Aug. 5.—The annulment of a contract between the Boston & Maine Railroad and the American Express Company on the ground that it is unjust and inequitable as to the railroad and tantamount to a loss to the stockholders is sought in a bill in equity filed in the Superior Court today by Mrs. Clementine B. Wentworth of Concord, a stockholder of the railroad.

The bill alleges that the contract has resulted in a loss of $1,600,000 to the railroad and that so long as it remains in force the road will continue to lose $700,000 annually. It is further stated that the contract was brought about through the influence of three American Express Company directors, Lewis Cass Leavitt and C. M. Pratt of New York and Henry M. Whitney of Boston, who were elected to the Boston & Maine directorate in 1907 when the Express Company held 24,659 shares of railroad stock.

Under the present contract the railroad grants the American Express Company exclusive express transportation rights over the Boston & Maine line and receives 25 per cent of the gross receipts of the express business. The bill alleges that 55 per cent would have been a fair compensation for the railroad when the contract was made for 29 years in 1907, constituting a contract that had seven years to run.

The petitioner asks the court to annul the contract, enjoin both railroad and express companies from up-

They will be equipped with batteries of four-inch rapid-firing guns and four twin torpedo tubes and will be propelled by steam turbines with oil burning turbo motors. The designs for these vessels were developed by the Bureau of Construction and Repair and Steam Engineering to produce certain important military characteristics desired by the General Naval Board. They will be the fastest of any of their class yet designed and will mark a decided advance in building of action at high speed over previous designs and will have largely increased offensive power. Increased weight and space have been assigned for living accommodations of both crew and officers. Many changes in type and location of fittings have been made to

DENIES THAT BERMUDA WILL BE MADE NAVAL BASE

New York, Aug. 5.—Bermuda, because of its distance from the eastern port of the Panama Canal could not be seriously considered as a large establishment for British naval forces and supplies, and neither her people nor the chief officials there have had any intimation from London that such a project is under consideration by their home Government, declared Lieutenant General Sir George M. B. Lock, K. C. B., governor of Bermuda, who arrived here yesterday.

General Bullock read the published reports concerning information which has reached Washington of Great Britain's alleged purpose to largely expand its Bermuda naval supply station and prospective efforts of other European and of Asiatic governments to similarly construct important naval bases as near as possible to the inter-oceanic canal.

"I am not in a position to state as to whether anything in regard to the home Government's purpose in that connection," he said, "but I can say that I have no knowledge to support such a declaration, and my personal familiarity with the situation forces me to the belief that Bermuda will not become a large naval base. My opinion is that something of merely routine character, taken in connection with the early opening of the canal, has been magnified without warrant."

"For a long time England has maintained a sort of naval base at Bermuda, and often there are several war vessels of the smaller type there. With the opening of the canal it may be necessary to make a naval coaling depot at Bermuda, but the notion of a great British naval base there, in my judgment, is entirely imaginary."

"Bermuda is not a place for such a naval base if England is to have one to protect her shipping passing through the canal. As a private individual it seems to me that there is no necessity for a naval base at Bermuda in the first place. Our real naval base in that part of the world is Jamaica, of course, which is very much nearer the entrance to the canal than is Bermuda. Bermuda also is not on the line of steamship passage between the canal and European ports. Great circle sailings, it is true, bring us within the radius of vessels following such a route, but that seems to me no argument for selection of Bermuda as a naval base in the face of arguments which I fancy make such a project appear very unlikely."

"As a matter of fact, I never have heard of any purpose to establish a great naval base in Bermuda, and our people there have never thought of such a thing. If this report merely reflects the views of sensationalists at Washington they seem to me to be borrowing trouble without justification."

General Bullock commanded the British forces in Egypt several years ago and has seen service in India, Africa and other countries. He spoke of the strong friendship which has sprung up among the British and American army officers wherever he had seen them together. He spoke with special pleasure of the call of General S. M. H. Young, U. S. A., when the latter was returning from the Philippines to America soon after the Spanish-American War, and General Bullock, in Egypt, entertained General Young and the latter's staff.

After a brief stay in the mountains of New Hampshire General Bullock and his party will go to Canada for shooting.

MEXICAN POLICY WILL DEPEND ON LINDS' REPORT

Washington, Aug. 5.—No announcement of policy will be made, or further steps taken by President Wilson in the Mexican situation until Ex-Gov. John Lind of Minnesota, personal representative of the President, arrives in Mexico City and familiarizes himself with conditions there.

This was made clear at the White House today. Mr. Lind carried instructions to talk informally with prominent Mexicans. Administration officials indicated that no steps toward a mediation policy would be attempted until after Mr. Lind had sounded sentiment in Mexico and determined whether the assistance of the United States in adjusting the dispute would be received.

Mr. Lind will inform inquirers on the authority of President Wilson that only the government constitutionally set up will be recognized by the United States. This will involve the resignation of Provisional President Huerta in favor of the Provisional President selected by the Mexican factions, the new president to be first appointed Minister of Foreign Relations, in conformity with the law of succession in Mexico.

It was pointed out in administration circles today that while Mr. Lind's position now is that of adviser to the American embassy, he will act in reality as an unofficial ambassador, to be named ambassador when a stable government is organized and recognition is extended by the United States.

Just what part Mr. Lind will take in peace negotiations is not made clear here, but there is every reason to believe that he will merely represent the views of the American Government to those who consult him, and will not directly interfere with the progress or events unless the Washington Government finally decided to mediate the dispute.

Mr. Lind may take passage from Galveston to Vera Cruz on the battleship New Hampshire, one of the ships of the Gulf patrol, if he desires to do so. The navy department has not yet been asked to provide a ship, but is prepared to, on account of the demoralized condition of rail traffic on the overland route to Mexico.

Officials here will await with much interest the tenor of the reception to Mr. Lind in the Mexican capital.

President Wilson has been unofficially informed of the support of Republicans of the House in his Mexican program so long as a nonpartisan attitude is maintained. Assurance to the President were conveyed from Republican Leader Mann. At both ends of the Capitol there have been informal agreements to keep the Mexican question out of politics.

NEW JERSEY'S PRISON CAMP

Newark, N. J., Aug. 5.—Along the stretch of Sussex County road in New Jersey, between the towns of Andover and Newton, there is a little camp situated in a woody clump a few hundred feet from the roadside. The place looks like any other camp where young men congregate to escape the heat and monotony of summer in the city, except that it is a bit more pretentious than the average. The camp consisted of three frame buildings—a large dormitory, thoroughly screened, containing thirty cots and equipped with shower, bath, lavatory and toilet facilities, a large mess hall and a smaller sleeping dwelling a bit more luxuriously furnished.

The camp is occupied by thirty-five men, with appetites that come from good hard work in the open. The only gloomy note is supplied by a dozen or so guards, rifles within easy reach.

The camp is called "Camp No. 1 of the New Jersey State Road Division," and the thirty-five men are from the state penitentiary at Trenton. It has been left to the state of New Jersey to solve two of the most perplexing problems of prison reform—how to relieve the overcrowded condition of our prisons and penitentiaries, and how to make the lot of the prisoners as happy and congenial as possible, at the same time keeping them under close guard and discipline.

But the state seems in a fair way to solve these two problems by the new plan of prison labor, which was inaugurated last week. The New Jersey Prison Labor Commission, appointed by President Wilson when he was governor has determined upon a programme of road building, farming and quarrying by state prisoners. The quarry has not yet been opened, but the farm has been purchased in South Jersey, and work will begin there in the autumn. While the work of the prisoners is under the direction of the labor Commission and State Road Commissioner C. A. Stevens, the prisoners themselves have a voice in the matter. Whenever a prisoner indicates his disapproval he is allowed to return to the penitentiary at Trenton.

This plan of cooperation is going to be carried even further, according to members of the commission. Prisoners will in all probability soon be consulted in regard to the management of the camps; will be allowed to apply for admission to the various squads and will be given the opportunity of proving that they are to be trusted in this life of greater freedom.

"Don't Worry" Camp was constructed by the prisoners themselves and is said to be a model of its kind from standpoints of sanitation and comfort. It is practically perfect. The drainage begins with a cesspool, twenty feet deep upon a gravel bed with necessary vents and sewer drains. The water supply is from a driven well. A squad of prisoners started work on the camp a few weeks ago. They cleared the ground, dug the sewer trenches, built the cesspool and constructed the quarters. J. H. Hillpot, foreman of the camp, said that the men have proved themselves to be the best workers he has ever known.

The camp will be maintained for probably ten or eleven months. It is planned, later on, to reconstruct many miles of the state roads by prison labor. Commissioner Stevens and Keeper Madden of the state prison are enthusiastic over the new method. They say it will relieve overcrowded and unsanitary prison conditions and give the taxpayers a tremendous return. The inhabitants of Sussex County have made no complaint over the presence of convicts working near the homes.

KERN SEEKS NAVY "SNOBBERY" FACTS

Washington, Aug. 5.—Transferring his fight against "snoobery" in the navy from the Senate floor to the department itself, Senator Kern of Indiana, majority leader of the upper House, was today working up facts in various cases in which enlisted men have been denied promotion to the rank of officers because of the fact that they had not been in Annapolis. He received word today that certain young men have been rejected after serving examinations because the examining officers used against them the 10 points credited to "adaptability." The inference drawn by Kern is that "adaptability" synonymously with social exclusiveness which he finds among many of the officials.

SAILORS AND GREEKS.

In Battle on Daniel Street—Windows Smashed in Shoe Shine Parlors.

Iron foot locks, hammers, nail holders, and other fixtures in the shoe shine parlors on Daniel street were used in battle on Tuesday night between the corps of Greeks of the shoe shine trust, connected with the establishment and a bunch of blue-jackets from one of the ships.

An argument started, and immediately war was declared. The floor director of the shine department pushed out of the jackets out of the door that was enough. The next instant the rebellion was on. Loos, shoes, and anything that was not nailed came in for ammunition. As the battle raged more Greeks arrived on the scene and got right into the scrum. By this time the windows had been shot away with flying bullets. The drama of "Alexander the Great" had nothing on it for a minute. The finishing touches were put on when a husky son of Greece grabbed the iron stand that holds the shoe last in the shining department and went after the hold molder boys who began to make their escape down the street. The police took a look at the battle ground and later gathered in two of these Sam's warriors, who they think helped to bombard the "shine 'em up" shop.

HEARING ON GAS.

Public Service Board Investigate Rates at Manchester.

The reports of the public service commission on the various petitions of the New Hampshire Water and Electric Power Co., of New Hampshire, upon which extended hearings have been held, are filed.

Upon the petitions for authority to lease the properties of the Jaffrey & Tracy Electric Light Co., an allied corporation for the term of 99 years at an annual rental of $1,350, the commission finds that the proposed rental is excessive and that a rental in excess of $900 per annum will not be for the public good. If the parties desire to execute a lease on such terms, the commission will approve a lease in proper form, otherwise the petition will be denied.

Upon the petition for authority to issue $10,000 capital stock for the purchase of the electric lines in Troy, owned by the New Hampshire Water & Electric Co., of Maine, another allied corporation, the commission finds that the proposed price excessive and inconsistent with the public good. The purchase will be permitted for a price of $10,000 if the parties desire to make the transfer upon these terms, otherwise the petition will be denied.

Upon the petition for authority to issue capital stock for new construction to the amount of $75,000, the commission finds the amount proposed to be issued in excess of the amount reasonably requisite, and will issue an order authorizing an issue of $50,000.
